Easter Eggstravaganza

It was lovely to see so many families come to our Easter Eggstravaganza. This was Mr Floyd's first event as our new Learning Mentor, and I would like to thank him and Miss Donna Mustafa for their excellent organisation. Everybody had a lot of fun!

St. Paul's pupils are in an advert!

Miss Donna Mustafa has very sharp eyes. She was watching an advert on television for Fareshare and saw the three children who took produce to Borough Market in the Autumn Term in the advert. You can find the advert on Amazon Prime, if you would like to take a look.

Gospel Choir

Miss Pierre-Louis took her choir to the Royal Festival Hall to perform with other schools yesterday. It was widely agreed that they were amazing, and performed professionally. I think we can expect a lot of invitations to perform now! We have taken video footage of them performing, and will put this on the website. This picture shows them performing

Bikeability Workshops

Some of the Key Stage 2 children have been working with specialist instructors this week to improve their confidence and, in the case of Years 5 and 6, their road safety skills when riding their bicycles.

St. Patrick's Day

Yesterday we dressed in green for St. Patrick's Day. This is to mark the patron saint days of the United Kingdom and Ireland, which is teaching the children about British customs and culture. Thanks to all the parents who have got into the spirit of this, and have found something green for their children to wear. The next patron saint's day is April 23rd, which is St. George's Day.

Free Concert Tickets

There is a chance to win some free tickets to a classical music concert entitled The Composer is Dead, at the Southbank Centre, on Saturday 16th April. If you are interested, just email ticketoffers@southbankcentre.co.uk with the email title 'The Composer is Dead' and saying how many adult and child tickets you want.
